3 Days trip to Ethiopia with a focus on Harar and Dire Dawa. Here's a suggested itinerary:

Day 1: Arrival in Addis Ababa and Fly to Dire Dawa

Upon your arrival in Addis Ababa, you'll need to take a domestic flight to Dire Dawa. There are frequent flights between Addis Ababa and Dire Dawa, and the flight duration is approximately one hour. Once you reach Dire Dawa, you can settle into your accommodation and spend the rest of the day exploring the city. Dire Dawa has a vibrant market, historical sites, and interesting architecture influenced by French and Islamic cultures.

Day 2: Explore Harar

After breakfast in Dire Dawa, you can take a day trip to Harar, which is about an hour's drive away. Harar is a UNESCO World Heritage site known for its ancient walled city and unique cultural heritage. Spend the day wandering through its narrow alleyways, visiting the colorful markets, and admiring the traditional Harari houses with their beautiful wooden balconies. Don't miss the opportunity to see the renowned Hyena Man feeding the hyenas in the evening—a fascinating and somewhat surreal experience.

Day 3: Return to Addis Ababa

On the final day of your trip, you'll head back to Addis Ababa. Depending on your flight schedule, you may have some time to explore the capital city. Addis Ababa offers several attractions, including the National Museum, Holy Trinity Cathedral, Merkato (one of Africa's largest open-air markets), and various cultural and art galleries. If time permits, you can also sample some delicious Ethiopian cuisine at one of the city's traditional restaurants.

This itinerary allows you to experience the highlights of Harar and Dire Dawa within a three-day timeframe. However, please note that travel times and flight schedules are subject to change, so it's essential to check for the most up-to-date.
